Set on two private acres above Spearfish, this extraordinary contemporary residence offers a rare convergence of architectural significance, panoramic Black Hills views, and refined modern living. Completed in 2023 from plans originally drawn by acclaimed Laguna Beach architect Mark Singer, the approximately 3,747-square-foot home was thoughtfully positioned to embrace its dramatic setting and expansive western views.

Walls of glass and an open, light-filled floor plan allow the landscape to become part of the architecture. The great room, dining area, and beautifully appointed kitchen flow effortlessly together, while expansive outdoor living spaces create a seamless connection to the surrounding hills and horizon.

Inside, enduring materials and exceptional craftsmanship define the home: hardwood flooring, poplar trim, quartz surfaces, dovetailed maple cabinetry, a striking quartz fireplace, and a custom built-in media wall. Four bedrooms and three baths provide comfortable accommodations, while the private primary suite features dual walk-in closets, a generous bath, and direct outdoor access.

The exterior pairs weathering metal, dimensional wood, stone, and a standing-seam roof for a distinctly modern profile that feels naturally at home in the landscape. A finished, heated two-car garage with tinted glass door is integrated into the architecture.

Just minutes from Spearfish and the recreation of the Northern Black Hills, the property offers exceptional access to Spearfish Canyon, hiking and biking trails, skiing, fly-fishing, and some of South Dakota's most celebrated scenery.

More than a residence, this is a rare opportunity to acquire a thoughtfully executed architectural home in one of the Black Hills' most compelling settings.
